

Gina Eaton

Are you taking into account our dust storms? The high winds that stem from them? How much of the pollutants will be in the dust blowing? The storms blew over my house from the direction of where ADI plans on building. (I live one mile away from the factory). We get several a year here.

