ADI should NOT BE IN THIS TOWN! We don't have the water for it, for one thing. The San Pedro is supposed to be PROTECTED! In addition to that, who the heck builds a million-gallon guzzling cancer plant in the middle of a freaking desert that has been through various stages of drought for the past 15 years? They are going to use more water in a day than the entire city uses in a YEAR! Have you even seen the San Pedro River lately? I live right beside it, so I see it every single day. It's been bone dry for a few years now. There is NO WATER HERE and the little we have we need for HUMANS TO SURVIVE! There are schools nearby. We weren't even notified about this and would have NEVER invested tens of thousands fixing up this run-down house if we knew ADI was coming. WE SHOULD HAVE BEEN NOTIFIED! What about the kids in this town? The trucks are already clogging up traffic and my kid was nearly run over by a red ADI semi trying to walk to school. The town will smell like rotten eggs and you really think some rich tycoons will want to golf next door? LMAO!!!! Use your brains and reject this permit.
