I am a home owner in Benson whose house is 0.2 miles from the ADI site. I've just read that the plant will include a melting pit that will sit 20 feet before the water table. This is a bit unsettling, considering that the plant is in a flood plain, on a river, on a fault line. I urge you to deny any and all permits associated with this plant based on its location, polluting potential, and huge demand on municipal water.
