

Yogesh Patel

Hello, CDPR Director Julie Henderson We are Neem Organics Inc in woodland CA local industry.(Neem)is a tree for solving global problems was researched by National research council (US) Panel Washington DC 1992.Neem is the safest way for our needs in California, in this day and age yes they are many other products on the market but neem is available to us and also the most researched product in the world by many university's and scientists also CDPR have knowledge on this SUBJECT my point is why not we find a way to introduce it in California. We have been trying for the past 20 years in USA but small business cant do much we need a voice help and collaboration this will be a great move also how much of research we still need to do??? We can introduces neem in a big way in agriculture and many other ways this is a universal product for California and the best environmentally and eco- friendly product. Hope to have your support to move forward.

Thank you

Yogesh Patel