Please make sure that pesticide use is kept to the maximum allowed by law when around schools or places housing students of all kinds, or staff of such places.

Really what I would prefer you to realize is how deleterious pesticide use is all together, and instead aim for completely transforming California agriculture into organic, regenerative agriculture. We can save our land, our crops, and our children by doing that. Imagine if you took that step, what a huge impact you could make on the country's agriculture establishment.
