

Oscar Maldonado

I do not support this measure. It imposes undue harm (from the public towards the growers) and adds an economic burden from the State to waste money on a system that very few individuals will use. I believe this tool will be used more from media reporters and activist groups.