PAN-1; As a California citizen who lives adjacent to agriculture I need total transparency concerning the application of pesticides. That would include information regarding the exact location of the pesticide application, not just a 1 mile radius as is currently specified in the alerts. It is inexcusable that specific location information is not being provided since it is known. Many Californians live in close proximity to agricultural land and we need precise information, particularly since spraying occurs so frequently. This is the only way that we can protect ourselves and our families. Asthma is on the rise in children and this information will become even more critical in the future. Please include exact location in your warnings so that we can take actionable steps to protect ourselves.
