

Aileen Suzara

PAN-1; It's 2026, and by now, states like California know that transparency is critical to safeguarding public health. There's no reason not to alert residents so they can take precautions.