

Anonymous Anonymous

(!) Super-toxic rat poisons indiscriminately harm other species (like owls, bobcats, hawks) that naturally help keep rodent populations down. The harmful effects on wildlife that eat poisoned rats and mice have been well documented in CA. The poisons are already threatening endangered species like the California condor and the San Joaquin kit fox.

There should be no backsliding on the three bills passed into law since 2020: AB 1788, AB 2552 (the Poison-Free Wildlife Act), and AB 1322.