

Christine Kelly

Rodenticide needs to be outlawed altogether - the secondary killing is clear and has had a continuous impact on our wildlife, including, but not limited to, coyotes and owls. Not to mention the dead bodies in our water systems and trace amounts being found in water we drink.