Rodenticide is never the answer. Increasing wildlife predator habitat has a much stronger effect on rodent mitigation in natural areas. Snap traps are more than efficient and are reusable in urban or domestic areas. The risk of a pet ingesting rodenticide is too high for anyone to risk and it is just cruel! Anyone who thinks anticoagulants are the way is pure evil and is not thinking of how our wildlife numbers will look in the future. If our food webs collapse in the wild, We collapse too.

BAN ALL RODENTICIDAL USE. NO TO ANTICOAGULANT POISONS. The only anticoagulants that should remain legal are the ones your Dr prescribed you.
