

Kristin Morgan

I strongly urge there remain (or increase!) restrictions on anti-coagulant rodent poisons due to the danger to pets and wildlife. I've had cats poisoned by eating rats that had eaten the bait, and it's just not worth the cost to the other animals.