

Maryanne Tirinnanzi

These toxins need to be banned as they are forever chemicals. They bioaccumulate in our environment, especially for animals like endangered raptors who eat them, and all the other animals who eat them. I put these rodenticides right up there with DDT in the ability to destroy our wildlife. I speak as one who has studied toxin bioaccumulation in graduate school.

Sincerely, Maryanne Tirinnanzi BS, MS, MPH Epidemiology