

Monica Donovan

I truly believe we would be better off without these rodenticides since they contribute to killing many more species than rodents.

I believe we need to keep protections in place for the overall good.