

Conner H

As a possible source of priorities, I recommend working with the Department of Cannabis Control. They have some interesting data on legacy pesticides due to the strict pesticide residue testing requirements.