

Joshua Goodlink

Californian's do not need to pay more at the pump. It is already out of control. We don't need higher taxes. They are already too high. All these hidden costs are creating a poverty class in California.