

Janet French

When will California stop making it difficult for businesses to operate? Businesses are leaving the state along with jobs and revenue. It's frustrating that California keeps getting weaker and weaker in the competitive market and economy overall. You want people to stay when stop making California unhealthy.