

George Maurer

The cost of living in California is out of control. I just retired and we're seriously considering leaving the state. If this passes, it just might be the last straw.