The damage done by CARB and the insane regulations it has imposed on the citizens of California is inexcusable. In the name of clean air, you have mandated systems on trucks that are constantly failing, shortening the usable life of the trucks, injecting acid into the exhaust. This is supposed to be good for the environment?

You have caused the price of energy to be so high it is punitive. And now you are driving the last few remaining refineries out of California. We now have to have fuel shipped from the other side of the world on tankers that burn crude oil! It's as if you are trying to destroy this once great state.
STOP THIS INSANITY!
