

douglas brummett

To whom it may concern,

I wholly oppose any additional taxes or fees on petroleum products. I find it truly ludicrous that California, the state which pulls the highest taxes/fees/penalties on fuel, is considering adding to this burden on their citizens, tourists, and shipping companies. There is no excuse for this level of burden on the people who happen to need fuel in the state of California.