

William Mancilla

CARB should have local government agencies report their GHG emissions. Not including local governments will create undervalued GHG reporting that is active in California skies. We all have a active role to play and GHG emissions should be reported by all entities responsible for harmful emissions.