

Marco Guardi

The high cost of living and doing business in California continues to fuel outward migration of residents. CARB is in a position to reverse escalating costs by eliminating all fees stemming from Cap and Trade arrangements.