

Joan Mayeaux

I understand that the California Air Resources Board will consider major changes to its Cap-and-Invest program that could increase the cost of gasoline and electricity for California families. At a time when gas prices have reached $6.06 or more per gallon of unleaded gasoline, Californians are already feeling the strain. Please do not make changes that will further add to the economic pressure that most Californians are under!