

Joel Velazquez

Do NOT pass amendments that will drive California's refineries out of the state while gas is already that six dollars a gallon, specially diesel. This price elevation is just ridiculous, the state of California will not be called the richest state, it will be the the state with the poorest hard working population, unless your in the government.