

Marcus Colella

This initiative needs to stop. At a time when the climate crisis is only worsening, you are proposing more subsidies to fossil fuels which will simultaneously gut funding for public transportation. This is an embarrassment to the purported values of the Democratic Party, and anyone who supports this will lose my vote both locally and in any national election they might be considering running in.