

CARLA SANCHEZ

Raising gas on an already declining economy and mild recession time period is not what we the people want. I kindly ask you to reconsider. There are people out there barely making it on rent, food, and bills and can't afford this new tax. Focus on other problems that you seem to be avoiding like cuts on federal help for immigrants, inflation, and cuts to education.