This is my formal comment on water quality conditions as I experience them in the south side.
Ice cubes made from our tap water come out cloudy and carry a stale taste.
Occasionally there is an earthy or musty taste to the water, especially after any repair work on the street.
Dishes come out of the dishwasher with a film on them no matter which detergent we use.
Hardness and total dissolved solids seem very high here, based on how quickly my appliances scale up.
Algae blooms in the reservoir have been reported, and I want to be sure toxins are properly screened for.
As someone caring for an elderly parent, I need to be certain the water is safe for medications and cooking.
Public health should be the first consideration when decisions are made about treatment and funding.
A schedule for replacing lead service lines should be published, with clear dates and street-by-street progress.
I requested a copy of our latest water quality report and found it full of jargon that no ordinary resident can interpret.
I urge decision-makers to treat water quality as a long-term commitment and not a crisis-by-crisis response.
