

Jennifer OConnor

Vancouver Lake is an amazing treasure in the Southwest Washington. We love to use it when it is safe. Our kid's summer camp has been cancelled because the lake was unsafe for swimming. This is problematic not only for the residents of Vancouver but also for the bird sanctuary nearby. It worthwhile to bring this beautiful lake back from being unsafe due to blue-green algae and milfoil for both human and animal use.