Pablo Green

After following the impact of data centers in communities, I do not see a negative impact. Vantage Data Center actually wants to use smaller generators that produce less pollutants. This shows responsibility and accountability to the Quincy community.

On another note, Quincy has never had such growth, not only in tax revenue, but also with a full time police force, a new school and a boom in home building. Businesses are thriving and new jobs created with better pay; all thanks to the data centers which includes Vantage Data Center.