

Peter Brezny

The NOP must be strengthened to promote public health and safety. All ingredients on the NOP list should be evaluated, even those listed as 'inert'. Not only must they be tested individually, but in combination to insure no synergetic negative effects of compounds contained in products result.