

Anonymous Anonymous

The root of most disease starts with food and the pesticides/herbicides sprayed on it, fed to animals, leached into water, etc. There is too much talk about finding cures with no focus on prevention. Organic must be protected and held to the highest standard. Government owes its protection to people, not corporations.