

Cathleen Weston

It is imperative that the USDA follow through on their identifying inert ingredients used in ORGANIC production. Closing the loophole allowing chemical or biologically active ingredients into organic.